

The 208-foot tall stainless steel Great Cross at Mission Nombre de Dios in St. Augustine marks the approximate site where the first parish Mass in the first permanent European settlement in what is now the United States was celebrated on September 8, 1565. The cross is shown here against early morning light.