"Peter and his companions had been overcome by sleep, but becoming fully awake, they saw his glory and the two men standing with him. As they were about to part from him, Peter said to Jesus, "Master, it is good that we are here; let us make three tents, one for you, one for Moses, and one for Elijah." But he did not know what he was saying. Luke 9: 32-33

Peter is often characterized as impulsive. He leaps before he looks. In the gospels, he jumps out of boats in the middle of the sea of Galilee to get to Jesus. He boldly claims he will never betray Jesus. He denounces Jesus' prophecy of his crucifixion in Jerusalem. Peter is frequently portrayed as acting without thinking things through or assuming he understands the situation.

It is not that Peter is impulsive. What he lacks is the virtue of docility. Docility comes from the word "docere" which means "to teach". Derived from "docere" are the words "doctrine", "doctor" and "doctorate". Docility is the virtue of obedience and openness to learning. Another word for "docility" is "teachability".

Peter will become the first vicar of Christ after Jesus ascends to heaven. Peter will become the leader of the Church. Before he becomes the teacher and leader of the Church on earth, he must first learn to listen and follow.

Docility is the mean between excessive pride and passive submission. It is a virtue that is balanced between pride and laziness. The lazy person is not interested in learning. Or at least is not disciplined to put the effort that is necessary to learn in an organized and meaningful fashion. The prideful person possesses contempt for things he does not know and assumes his knowledge and perception to be sufficient and true.

Peter has a little of both. He is not willing to sit still, pay attention and listen until the lesson is finished. In our gospel today, before the dazzling vision of Moses and Elijah depart, Peter begins to speak before God is done talking. God the Father, interrupts Peter's exhortation to plant three tents in honor of the event:

"While he (Peter) was still speaking, a cloud came and cast a shadow over them, and they became frightened when they entered the cloud. Then from the cloud came a voice that said, "This is my chosen Son; listen to him." Luke 9 :34-35

We speak about the Lenten practices of prayer, fasting and almsgiving. We should ask God for the virtue of docility. During Holy Week we will follow Jesus into Jerusalem, into the Upper Room, over to the Garden at Gethsemane, The Way of the Cross and into the Empty Tomb. Let us pray to we may be led by the will of God and not our own.

Today we have a special guest preacher at Holy Family Cathedral. Bishop Robert Christian is the Auxiliary Bishop of San Francisco. As some of you know, Bishop Christian is a Dominican Friar and former member of the Western Dominican Province. He was ordained to the Episcopacy last June. We warmly welcome you Bishop Christian to Holy Family Cathedral!

Fr. Steve Maekawa, OP - Pastor
