

Our speech and our behavior should be so strong and so appealing as to get people thinking of the Catholic faith that we profess, and the faith that makes us the kind and gracious persons that we are.