Notes from the Teacher

It was great to have some visitors from our class come see me at yesterday's Open House. Thank you to the students for being such fabulous ambassadors for our school. I look forward to our next open house on Thursday night. Let your friends know, if they have interest in our school.

This week marks the halfway point of the school year! I will be providing all students with new crayons, glue, and pencils. Ask your second graders if they need any other supplies - Thanks! St. Valentine's Day is just around the corner. We will exchange Valentines. Next week's newsletter will include a class list.

The 100th day of school is coming up on us as well! Stay tuned for some fun activities being planned to celebrate!
