Notes from the Teacher

I hope you enjoyed your long weekend. I know a lot of kiddos could really use some extra days to rest. We have had some sore throats and runny noses in second grade.

Friday the students celebrated the 100th day of school. K-3rd grade students rotated from class to class to experience 100 based center activities. They wrote stories about themselves in 100 years, did some problem solving within 100, and created an age progressed self portrait of themselves at 100, built with 100, ate 100 snacks and so much more!

This week we will be settling in to a more normal routine for the rest of the short week. We will be wrapping up our Matter unit in Science with a fun and messy lab. Make sure to ask your 2nd grader what they made in Science today!
